

Titanic Survival Analysis Report

This project analyzes the Titanic dataset using Data Science techniques.

Dataset contains passenger details such as age, gender, class and fare.

Key Findings:

- Female passengers had higher survival rates.
- First class passengers survived more frequently.
- Higher fare passengers showed better survival chances.

Conclusion: Gender, passenger class and fare were important survival factors.